NOTEWORTHY EVENT

MANY COME AND GO AT AFTER-NOON FUNCTION IN THE BARTLETT HOME

Lo! when we awoke Thursday morning we found that Jupiter Pluvius was in tears; likewise (nearly) was Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, who had planned a beautiful reception in her home, 101 Brand boulevard, in honor of her cousin and house guest, Dr. Margaret Lewis of Kohlar, S. India; Mrs. J. M. Border and Miss Bartlett of Glendale.

However, neither storm lasted very long, as the joyful sun danced welcomingly forth and drove away all fears, as well as moisture, so after all the weather was ideal for an equally attractive party.

A raid on the garden had been made for the occasion and as a result the living-room bloomed forth in quantities of pink hydrangeas, effectively arranged in large baskets and vases that seemed scarce able to hold so many long-stemmed show-ers. It was here the guests, who were previously admitted and ushered in by pretty little Eva Hudson, were received by the charming hostess, Mrs. Bartlett, who headed the line in which stood Dr. Margaret Lewis, Mrs. J. M. Border, Miss Myra Bartlett, Mrs. John Patridge, Mrs. Blanche Anger, Mrs. Mary Howard Gridley and Mrs. Wash Hunt.

In the dining-room, where tea was poured, pink sweet peas and delicate fern were massed together in low mounds. At either end of the table bowls of velvety pansies were introduced. Exquisite pink roses were also grouped in tall vases about the room. Presiding at the tea urns were Mrs. V. Price Brown and Mrs. W. W. McElroy, both being assisted by Mesdames Freeman Kelley, Elizabeth Brown, Alex Mitchell and Miss Dorothy Dow.

Delicious punch was served on the attractive veranda, where Shasta daisies peeked out from behind the pretty arrangement of potted plants and ferns. Mrs. John G. Hunchberger and Mrs. D. W. Hunt were stationed here.

Other unbonneted ladies who lent their charming personalities to the affair were Mrs. R. A. Blackburn, Mrs. A. W. Dow and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones.

Carefully selected music was softly played throughout the afternoon by Miss Frances Payne, violin; Miss Dorothy Lee, piano; Cecil Crandall, violin, and J. T. Beach, coronet.

During the receiving hours of from 3 o'clock, over one hundred beautifully gowned ladies came and went, each leaving behind some pleasant little memory and taking away in return decidedly pleasing thoughts of a very beautiful and wholly delightful summer afternoon.

Besides those assisting, the list of invited guests included the following names:

Mrs. R. A. Blackburn, Mrs. Eugene C. Frank, Mrs. A. W. Dow, Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., Mrs. Frank Campbell, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. Arthur Campbell, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Luther G. LATE TROPICO NEWS

It has long been the custom of a number of prominent society and club ladies, who reside on Glendale avenue, or what is sometimes termed as East Tropico, to hold "sewing bees." The ladies will meet at the home of one of their number and while the hostess is preparing a tempting luncheon, the ladies will ply their needles and very skillfully with the family sewing of the hostess. Wednesday the "sewing bee" was held at the home of Mrs. Hal H. Davenport on Glendale avenue. The luncheon was served cafeteria style and proved very interesting as well as the unique manner of serving. The ladies who assisted Mrs. Davenport with the "family sewing" were Mrs. George Nelson Lunn, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Thomas Gaither, Mrs. George Roper, Mrs. A. O. Conrad, Mrs. Frank E. Peters, Mrs. A. H. Gaarder and Mrs. W. C. Wattles.

The fife and drum corps of Los Angeles will attend N. P. Banks Post, Corps and Sons of Veterans picnic that will be held at Echo park on Friday, July 24. A musical program will be rendered. It is conservatively estimated that over two hundred will attend this annual picnic of these three patriotic organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Pratt, accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. O. P. Sheldon, their house guests, spent Friday in Burbank as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jens Askeland.

Following the usual semi-monthly meeting of N. P. Banks Sons of Veterans camp, a banquet was enjoyed at the G. A. R. hall on last Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Charles J. Bruck of Tropico avenue has returned from a pleasant sojourn at Santa Monica, where she was the guest of Mrs. Chadwick and Miss Florence Chadwick.

Rev. and Mrs. O. P. Sheldon of Los Angeles, former residents of this city, are spending the week as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Pratt of Glendale avenue.

Mrs. J. D. Botts and daughter, Miss Carrie Botts, of Highland Park, are the week-end guests of Mrs. Frank I. Marsh of Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Danner are spending a fortnight at Santa Monica as the guests of Mrs. Danner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Chadwick.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

At the Woman's Auxiliary meeting of the Congregational church, which was held all day Thursday in the church parlors, the reports of the first half year's work accomplished by these ardent workers proved more than gratifying. Among the many interesting announcements made was the fact that over $126 had been taken in by this organization since the first of the year.

A goodly number were in attendance at Thursday's meeting and an hour's rest at noon was greatly enjoyed and 'tis safe to say that the same may be said of the delicious luncheon that was served during that time.

HOUSE GUEST ENTERTAINED

As a courtesy to their house guest, Miss Theo Wills, who has been spending the past two weeks with them from Auburn, Cal., Mrs. J. C. Hays, Jr., and Miss Minnie Kennedy of 111 East Second street entertained very informally at Bridge in their home recently.

The rooms were filled with the delicate aroma of bright summer blossoms, and as a closing feature of a very delightful afternoon, dainty refreshments were served to Mrs. N. Millett of Los Angeles, Mrs. Thompson Campbell, Mrs. W. Mosley, Mrs. R. Cannon, Mrs. W. Nicholson of San Diego, Miss Wills and the charming hostesses.

On the morrow Miss Nell Wills and Mr. Adrian Wills of Long Beach will spend the week-end at the home of Mrs. Hays, returning Sunday, accompanied by their sister, Miss Theo, to the popular summer resort from whence they came.

Lynch, Mrs. Baldwin, Miss Baldwin, Miss Alice Frank, Miss Elizabeth Porter, Miss Martha Porter, Miss Rebecca Porter, Miss Lorraine Mitchell, Miss Lockett, Miss Freeman, Miss Monica Smith, Miss Katherine Wells, Miss Lee, Miss Faith Remick and Miss Button.

GLENDALE, JEWEL OF THE VALLEY

Near the City of the Angels, 'tween the rolling western sea And the tall Verdugo mountains, nestling calm and peacefully, Lies the jewel of the valley—Lovely Glendale charms the view Thro' the hazy, gauzy mists of distant atmospheric blue.

Fanned by gentle cooling breezes from the lofty mountain crest, Cradled in the verdant San Fernando valley's sheltered nest, Where are deep-empurpled vineyards, orange groves and sun-kissed fields; Where the mockingbird's enchanting notes the heart with rapture thrills.

Every bright-hued flower vying in this loveland of the rose, One bewitching mass of color on the artist's vision grows; Truly all of Nature's beauties have been richly scattered here, But there may be other reasons why the place seems doubly dear.

A host of charming people and loyal friends galore Draw the wanderer from the city lovingly to home once more, And a loved one, tall and stately, dearer far than all the rest, Whose dear eyes, intense with yearning, seem to burn into my breast.

Beckons stronger than the others—oh, it makes my heart rejoice; I am longing once again to see his face and hear his voice; Feel his hearty, thrilling hand-clasp, see his smile so calm and free; Soon I'm going back to Glendale, which is home, sweet home, to me! By MRS. ADELE LA PEARL.

NORTH GLENDALE

Miss Grace Grady and sister, Miss Irene Grady of Berkeley, are house guests of Miss Alpha Clement of 1321 North Pacific avenue.

Mrs. J. E. McKeever of 419 North Brand boulevard and Mrs. Fred Davis of Glendale were guests of Mrs. Dr. Beatty of Crenshaw boulevard at a Kensington last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. S. W. Corwin of 419 North Central avenue is spending the week at Roscoe with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Hanson of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McKeever, Mrs. McKeever's mother, Mrs. Glenn; Mrs. Carl B. Haig and daughter, Miss Dorothy Haig; Mrs. Farnum and daughter, Miss Marguerite Keopke, and Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Wright of North Glendale, attended the installation of officers of La Jolla temple of Pythian Sisters at Tropico last evening. A delightful time was enjoyed by all present.

Miss Harriet Bayard of Glendale, Mr. Ned Whitlaw of Los Angeles, Mr. Frank Littell and Miss Alpha Clement of North Glendale, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bourne of 1620 Stocker street very recently. Dancing in the evening was enjoyed by these charming young people, who certainly know how to have a good time.

Mr. C. H. Conrad of 1433 Burchett street, one of the Pacific Electric dispatchers of the northern division, had the honor of sending out the first car to San Bernardino last Saturday morning.

Mrs. N. R. Browne and daughter, Miss Ruth Browne, of 1620 Stocker street, who are now spending their vacation at Filmore, are expected home in a few days, to the delight of their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bourne of 1620 Stocker street entertained a party of friends very informally last Wednesday. Tennis was enjoyed during the early hours. Many exciting games were played by these tennis enthusiasts, after which the party repaired to the house, where a dainty luncheon awaited them, all doing justice to the good things that were served them by the charming hostess. Among the favored guests were Miss Alpha Clement and sister-in-law, Mrs. E. F. Clement of Lindsay; Miss Grace Grady and Miss Irene Grady of Berkeley, who are spending their vacation in the Southland; Mr. Charles Carroll and Mr. John Dewar, who with the hospitable host and hostess made up the house party.

A most delightful time was enjoyed by the membership and friends Thursday evening at the social given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Casa Verdugo M. E. church. A musical program with several readings were especially delightful, after which games and social conversation were enjoyed. A refreshment booth, where delicious fruitade and dainty cakes were served by three of the young ladies, added much to the pleasure of the evening. That the social time was a success was demonstrated by the attendance that taxed the capacity of the church building, over one hundred being present. This was one of a series of get-acquainted times that will be looked forward to with delightful anticipation.

The Pulliam Undertaking Company building is being adorned with a handsome sign in raised gold letters on the upper portion of the building. Besides being of practical value, this adds to the attractiveness of the building. This artistic sign is the work of our local sign painter, Mr. H. V. Ellis, of West Third street.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

The Glendale Municipal League held a meeting in the high school auditorium Thursday evening, which was largely attended. The speakers were C. B. Guthrie, Mrs. Gridley, E. L. Payne and Luther Brown. Rebuttal argument was not allowed, which of course made the argument one-sided. It is human nature for people to want to hear both sides of a question that is of so much importance.

SLIPPER CLUB ENJOYS SHIRT-WAIST DANCE

The Slipper Club, which consists of Glendale Masons and their friends, enjoyed a shirtwaist dance at the attractive Masonic temple Thursday evening, July 16th.

Between fifty and sixty merry-makers were present to trip it on the light fantastic, and make no mistake, a glorious night it was, too, for Smeby was there with his perfectly good orchestra, so no more need be said other than a harvest dance will be enjoyed by this same club in September.

Oh, before this goes to press, mention must be made of the cunning slipper-adorned programs that were carried out in yellow and white, the motif adopted for decorative purposes throughout the hall.

REFORM IN SPELLING

There has been another ruction among the men of New York concerning the poor spelling of the stenographers, but this time instead of denouncing the girls, they are going after the spelling books. They say that the ordinary spelling book used in the grade schools contains about 15,000 words, that 10,000 of them are never used in business and that the pupils in the school are expected to memorize and learn how to spell the whole of them. The result is that many common words are misspelled, while the stenographers know how to spell many words that are never used. The bad spelling is not found among the stenographers alone. Recently some of the big concerns have given out samples of the spelling which they found in their correspondence, which shows that a large part of the men in the business world are very poor spellers. In consequence there is a very formidable movement to revise all of the spelling books and reduce the number of words to be learned in the grades to 3000, with other books for the high schools that will contain about 6000 words. For those who expect to enter college there will be another book that will contain 12,000 words. Some serious work has been done to find out the extent of the vocabulary used in business, and it has been ascertained that the average number of words used is much less than is contained in the spelling books in the grades. The conclusion is that a great deal of time is wasted in learning words that will never be used in ordinary business life. Spelling of the English language is almost wholly a matter of memory.—Omaha World-Herald.

The Misses Mary and Rachael Blackburn of 423 West Third street, together with Miss Jenny Harsh of Cedar street, left the fore part of the week for Nebraska, stopping over for a few hours in San Francisco, where they enjoyed a brief visit with the Glendale people who went north as delegates to the Christian Endeavor convention being held this week in Oakland.

At the headquarters of the Glendale Water Ownership League, 912 West Broadway, are banners printed on cloth reading, "Vote for the Water Bonds Next Tuesday, July 21." Ask for one and display it on your car.

VOLUNTARY SIGNERS

GLENDALE MEN AND WOMEN WHO STAND FOR MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

So intensely interested are many of the citizens of Glendale in municipal ownership of water, that they have expressed themselves as approving of it in the following manner:

We, the undersigned citizens of Glendale, believe that the next step in the development of our city is the establishment of a municipal water plant, and we heartily endorse the proposition of issuing municipal bonds to the extent of $248,000 for the purpose of purchasing the present water plants, improving and extending them to meet our present and immediate future needs.

As we are now compelled by law to pay all the expenses of the water companies, as well as a handsome profit, we believe it is to our interest to own the systems, pay the necessary expenses, and put the profits into better service and lower rates. We will support the proposition at the polls July 21, 1914.

THIEVES ON SECOND STREET

While Mr. and Mrs. E. Chapella of 1520 West Second street were up town taking in the "movies" Wednesday night, thieves broke into their home and stole two valuable rings and the little boy's toy savings bank containing about $4.

The officers were called and after making a careful search for a clue, decided that the theft was the work of local talent, as nothing was taken except the rings, the boy's bank being found out in the yard, but they left every evidence of a thorough search for money, passing up all the silverware and other valuables. They gained entrance by cutting the screen from a small window of the kitchen.

PRESBYTERIAN CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR RECEPTION

The reception given to the new members on Thursday night by the Christian Endeavor was a most enjoyable affair. The young folks opened the reception with a most effective get-acquainted game. All enjoyed this and we felt better acquainted. After the game the guests and all were invited to the main auditorium, where we listened with pleasure to the following program:

Piano solo, Mr. George Ketterling.
Reading, Miss Helm.
Vocal solo, Mr. Riggs.
Cornet solo, Mr. Hastings.
Piano solo, Miss Widenham.
Vocal selection, Baraca quartet.
Vocal solo, Miss Millier.

While the Sunday school orchestra played splendid selections, the large audience was served with refreshments. This was considered the best get-acquainted reception that we have held.

FAREWELL DINNER

As a parting farewell to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Pruess of Cypress street, who left this morning for a six months' visit in the East and in their former home in Kentucky, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bennett of 651 East Acacia street entertained informally at dinner in their home Thursday evening.

Shasta daisies and fern were used in embellishing the table, while elsewhere in the rooms roses furnished attractive decorations.

Seated at the table with Mr. and Mrs. Bennett and family were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Pruess and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Thedaker of Tropico.

On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Pruess invited a few friends to their home for an informal evening of dancing. Light refreshments were served throughout the evening and a most delightful time was the verdict rendered at a later hour by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Van Wie, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Thedaker, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bennett and Miss Wanda Scofield of Tropico, Miss Georgia Mason, Miss Mae Flanders and Mr. Wayne Frank of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Briggs is so good looking that Mr. Briggs seldom finds it in his heart to be angry with her, but he was really cross when she returned from Florida.

"I understand," he said, "that you passed yourself off as a widow while you were away. How about it?" She admitted it.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself," said Briggs, "but I suppose you are not."

"Of course, I am not," said Mrs. Briggs serenely. "I only did it on Johnny's account. I wanted him to have a good time, and he did. You have no idea how kind all the gentlemen were to him."

Of nine thousand murderers in the United States last year, only 88 were hanged.

A MODERN COLUMBUS

To the mind of the ordinary man it would be difficult to conceive of a more desperate undertaking than the proposed flight across the Atlantic by Lieutenant Porte. He will be accompanied by one assistant, George Hallett, and the two are evidently determined to win a conspicuous place on the roll of fame or perish in the attempt. In addition to all the glory awaiting those who make the first successful passage, there is the purse of $50,000 offered by the London News. While men of such lofty devotion to science are necessarily above all sordid consideration, yet there is no reason to suppose they will spurn this neat little honorarium especially if it should be offered during the height of the excitement attending their landing on English soil.

These gentlemen have repeatedly assured the public that every possible precaution has been taken against accident and that they have no doubt as to being able to make the trip safely. Their ship has been built to sail with equal grace and ease either in the air or on the water. In case of accident while in the air it will be possible for them to drop to the placid bosom of old ocean and quietly make such repairs as may be needed for a continuation of their flight. This sounds well to the listening ear, but what if, at the time of such accident in the air, the before mentioned watery bosom should happen to be in a violent state of unrest, as sometimes happens?

Great as has been the care exercised in preparing for all emergencies, there still remains such a wide margin of danger as to place this among the most desperate undertakings of modern science. Danger, however, is the constant companion of all the men who are daily essaying the conquest of the air. Hundreds of them have already given their lives in the attempt and every step gained by the science has been marked with human sacrifice. These young men are one with the other members of their intrepid corps, and the possibility of disaster does not daunt their courage in the least. We confess to a feeling that all there is to be gained by the complete realization of all their dreams will not be worth its cost. At the same time we can but admire their courageous devotion and wish them Godspeed as they sail out upon a voyage far more desperate than that which confronted Columbus when he left old Spain with his face turned to the West.

Seal Beach

Two great expositions will bring hundreds of thousands of people to California next year. Los Angeles is the main entrance of both expositions. Hundreds upon hundreds of people have been waiting for the exposition year to come to California to live. A whole new city—from 75,000 to 100,000 people—will move to Los Angeles next year to live here permanently. Beach property is scarce now and will be even scarcer then. Present prices justify good profits then. Buy now for profit insured by the growth of Los Angeles and the scarcity of beach property. Seal Beach is the safest beach in the world—absolutely no undertow. GOOD LOTS $500 NEAR THE SPRAY.
